
Hondo Owls win District Championship

DEER, TURKEY ON DOC TAYLOR'S RANCHO CHICO

Welcome, hunters!

Weather conditions brought on a shortage of bucks but that is not expected to halt the pour of hunters who will converge on Medina County to blast off hunting season some 30 minutes before sunrise Saturday morning, Nov. 13.

And by the time the steady stream of hunters take their shots at deer through December 31, it is estimated they will ring the cash registers to the tune of some $2,000,000.

"This, of course, includes the leasing of the land," says August Timmerman of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. "Last year hunters leased more than 700,000 acres of land in Medina County at an average of $1 per acre."

Timmerman also said "hunters this year will probably have the hardest hunting year in a long time."

He explained: "Drought conditions proved fatal to many, many of the yearling deer crop, and then parasites hit them when they were in bad condition. So they will not be as plentiful as in prior years."

Timmerman did say that there are plenty of grown does, and this will make the issuing of antlerless deer permits so important. "We did not issue as many permits as we did last year," he said,

"But we issued more land owners. The total revealed permits for 1,063 separate pieces of land. In the north these permits were cut to one permit for 75 acres and south of Highway 90 the permits ran one to 100 acres."

He went on to point out that vegetation right now is the best he has ever seen it. "And this means the deer won't move around as much and will be better hidden from the hunters. They will not be heading out to the corn much, but might try for the oats a little more."

Timmerman said he does not feel that Medina County kills will come anywhere near the 15,800 killed last year. "But that doesn't mean we won't have the hunters in here busting caps," he pointed out.

Recapping the conditions which played a part in affecting the hunting season, Timmerman recalled "things were extremely bad in April and May and many young deer died north of Highway 90. We lost some south of the highway, but not nearly as many as we did in the north."

But despite these conditions hunters have been clamoring for leases. Chamber of Commerce Manager Harry Filleman maintains listings and helps get land-

Bi-District ahead

Owls to host Aggies Friday

With a championship crown already replacing their headgear, the Hondo Owls meet the Poteet Aggies on Barry Field Friday night to wind up regular season play.

Poteet has had what could only be described as a "miserable season", having lost all nine games. But this factor could prove a dangerous factor to the Owls.

Because if Hondo is looking to the bi-district game too hard, the Aggies just could zap them a hard one.

The Aggies field a comparatively light team, with only two men, tackles Cippy Rodriguez and James Miller, listed at 185. Center Ronnie Gasch tips the scales at 180. Quarterback Dana Tuttle weighs in at 157 pounds.

During the nine games over the season Poteet has scored 84 points and allowed 373. In District 28-AA battles the Aggies have scored 64 points and allowed 269.

Hondo's season scoring totals 194 points with opponents tallying 73. In District 28-AA the Owls have been tough defensively, giving up only 25 points while crossing the double stripes for 145.

Coach Nelson Bippert said the only change in his squad this week will be three B-Team players he has moved up and might possibly see some action. They are quarterbacks Brian Finger and James Prescott and fullback Gene McAnelly.

In looking forward to the Bi-District battle on November 19, the Owls are still uncertain who they will play.

As it stands right now Judson can win District 27-AA if they defeat Cole Friday night. Cole is tied for last place in the district and Judson is favored to win. However, if Judson loses then the district can go into a four way tie or Randolph could take top honors.

"It all depends on Friday night action," Supt. Kenneth Flory said. "But we will remain in telephone communication with their game Friday night and hopefully we can make an announcement on possible ticket arrangements late in the fourth quarter."

Welcome home, Lupe!

SCS to study flooding in Hondo area

County and Hondo officials joined hands this week in an effort marking the first step toward eliminating future flooding in the Hondo area.

Commissioners Court and City Council agreed to be co-sponsors on a request to have the Medina Valley Soil Conservation District make a study on the prevention of flooding in the immediate area of Hondo.

The study will cover Ball Waterhole Creek, a draw that heads about six or seven miles northwest of the city and continues through the city to where it joins the Little Liveoak Slough about five or six miles southeast of Hondo.

City of Hondo made the formal application for the work, but since some of the study and affected area lies outside the city limits, the SCS needed another co-sponsor with control over eminent domain. So the approach was made to the County.

"Easements outside the City limits must be obtained by the County and once completed must be maintained by the County," E. L. Abbott of the Soil District told both bodies. "Those inside the City of Hondo must be handled by the city."

He also pointed out that about 80 percent of the work to be done will be inside the city limits. "This job," he continued, "must be done under Public Law 566 if it meets the criteria. If not then we might go through Resource Conservation and Development program."

Abbott said once the study is started he would like to carry it all the way to where Ball Waterhole Creek and Little Liveoak Slough join.

"This study, once it receives a priority from the State Conservation Board, will cost the county and city nothing," Abbott said. "Nor is it binding. But it will give a picture of what might be done in this area to prevent flooding in the future."

Mrs. John Tower to visit

Mrs. John Tower, wife of Texas' senior senator, will visit Hondo Thursday, November 18, for a 3 p.m. reception to be held at the City Building in Hondo.

Mrs. Tower is scheduled to be in the city approximately one-and-one-half hours and is anxious to meet as many of the local and area residents as she can during this time.

Mrs. Tower, the former Lou Bullington, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Bullington of Wichita Falls, Texas. Senator and Mrs. Tower met in Wichita Falls when the Senator's father, the late Dr. Joe Z. Tower, was the pastor of the First Methodist Church and Miss Bullington served as substitute church organist. The couple's friendship developed when he joined the history and government faculty at Midwestern University in Wichita Falls in 1951, where she was a teacher of organ.

The Tower family, including three daughters, Penny, 16, Marian, 15, and Jeanne, 14, maintain their home in Wichita Falls. While in Washington they live in the Northwest section of the city. All three girls currently attend the Hockaday School in Dallas.

Mrs. Tower is active in the International Club, composed of wives of foreign diplomats and members of Congress, is chairman of the Capitol Hill Ladies luncheon group, and is program chairman of the Congressional Club, composed of wives and daughters of members and former members of Congress. She is active in the Senate Ladies Red Cross organization and is a member of Texas as Delegation Wives, the Texas State Society, the Republican Congressional Wives Club, and the 87th Congress Club, composed of wives of congressmen and senators who came as freshmen leg-

James Green files for representative

Pledging to work hard for the many reforms needed to restore public faith in the Texas Legislature, Jim Green, 31-year old San Marcos businessman, announced this week that he will be a candidate in the May Democratic primary for State Representative from the new district composed of Bandera, Blanco, Frio, Hays, Kendall, and N. W. Bexar counties.

Pointing out that Gerhardt Schulle, Jr. of Kyle and John Poerner of Hondo, the two incumbents placed in the same district by the State Redistricting Board, have been consistent supporters of indicted House Speaker Gus Mutscher, Green declared, "I will fight to restrict the enormous powers of the House speaker and change the House rules so that individual representatives can act independently and in the best interests of their district without fear of reprisal from a speaker who misuses his powers the way Mutscher has."

Green added that "the two incumbent representatives, according to an Associated Press story last week, are still riding with the Mutscher team and I believe that the people of this district are fed up with favoritism, cronyism, and scandal which characterized the last session of the Mutscher dominated legislature. I will be an independent representative," he stated, "concerned with the people of my district and their needs and not those of power-hungry politicians."

A native of Texas City, Texas who has lived in San Marcos since enrolling at Southwest Texas State University 13 years ago, Green is a former history instructor at SWTU, Angelo State University, and Schreiner Institute. He earned both bachelors and masters degrees from SWTU.

Green is currently the textbook manager at Colloquium Books Inc., a large privately-owned book store in San Marcos and is a co-owner of the Pic-A-Taco Restaurant, also in San Marcos.

He has been active in Democratic Party affairs in Hays County and served as Headquarters Manager for the Humphrey-Muskie campaign in 1968.

Stating that he plans to visit every area of the new, widespread district during the next six months, Green said he wants to talk to as many people as possible during the campaign. "The people of this district know what the problems are and many of them have good ideas about possible solutions. Their representative should listen to them and not to the Austin lobbyists and self-serving politicians who discredited our legislature last session."

Green reiterated that he decided to run because "I believe people want an independent representative in-

... certainly are in order to Lupe Barrientes, the young man from Hondo who visited the White House last week on special invitation from President Nixon himself.

Lupe was surprised on Wednesday, Nov. 3, when he was called from Dallas to say he had been invited to attend the National Youth Week observance in the White House Friday and Saturday.

But can you imagine his astonishment at 7:45 a.m. the following morning when the phone rang at his home and the voice on the other end said, "This is the President speaking."

Lupe must have had much presence of mind, because I don't believe I would have been able to speak.

Anyway he flew to Washington and attended the special event as a special representative of the Junior G.I. Forum which honored him with national recognition this past summer.

And while there he was selected as the "outstanding youth at the meeting" by the President's daughter, Julia Nixon Eisenhower. That's the plaque he holds so proudly here as he was welcomed home by officials of the Pruneda American Legion Post, Commander T. A. Lopez, on the right and Vice Commander Richard Torres on the left.

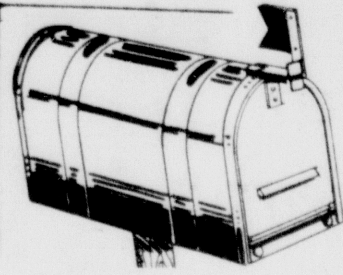

On behalf of the people of Hondo, I would like to say: "Congratulations, Lupe, for this high honor you received and in doing so the honor it brought to our city."

POLITICAL HEAT ...

... would seem to be some time away in our State Representative race--but not so. Proof of the heating pot is in the story this week on the announcement by Jim Green of San Marcos that he is out to get the seat in the new 45th District.

That means he is after Rep. John Poerner of Hondo and Rep. Gerhardt Schulle of San

Foster homes discussed

Foster Home Care in Medina County received a helping hand from County Commissioners Court Monday when they granted Judge Jerome Decker authority to negotiate with the State on this program.

Last week Enrique Salinas, assistant director of Region 4, Texas State Department of Public Welfare, met with Judge Decker to outline the program.

Once a contract is negotiated the State will pay Medicaid bills and $66 per month for any child declared a ward of the County through District Court action. The children also would be placed in a foster home, there being one in Devine and one in Lytle.

If no contract exists the County will stand the full bill.

Marcos, if the two decide to run again.

Poerner has indicated at times that he might toss his hat into the State Senatorial race if Sen. Wayne Connally decides to make a bid for the Lieutenant Governor's seat.

Over in Seguin Rep. John Traeger also appears to be leaning toward the senate fight. If so that makes to strong opponents.

But no matter, Green is in the race for State Representative and he says he is going to do battle all the way.

KEEP THOSE CARDS . . .

. . . and letters coming in. We love to read how people love to read the Anvil Herald. Like the note we received on the renewal slip returned by former residents Patrolman and Mrs. Harold E. Baecker who now live near Victoria:

"Couldn't do without the Hondo paper to keep us posted on what our friends are doing. If the kids make it to the mailbox first, they immediately look for the pictures to see if they can recognize anyone they know."

THE ROBERT MUMME'S . . .

. . . sure found a spot in our heart recently. The Tarpley Star Route residents came into the office and bought five (yep, 5) three-year subscriptions to the Anvil Herald for their children and grandchildren who are married . . . and they would have signed up for a couple more at the time, but were uncertain of their correct mailing addresses.

Thanks for the esteem you have in our paper, Mr. and Mrs. Mumme. We will do our best to keep your children posted with worthwhile reading.

Oh, yes, they said they would be back with the other two addresses.

MRS. W. W. WATSON . . .

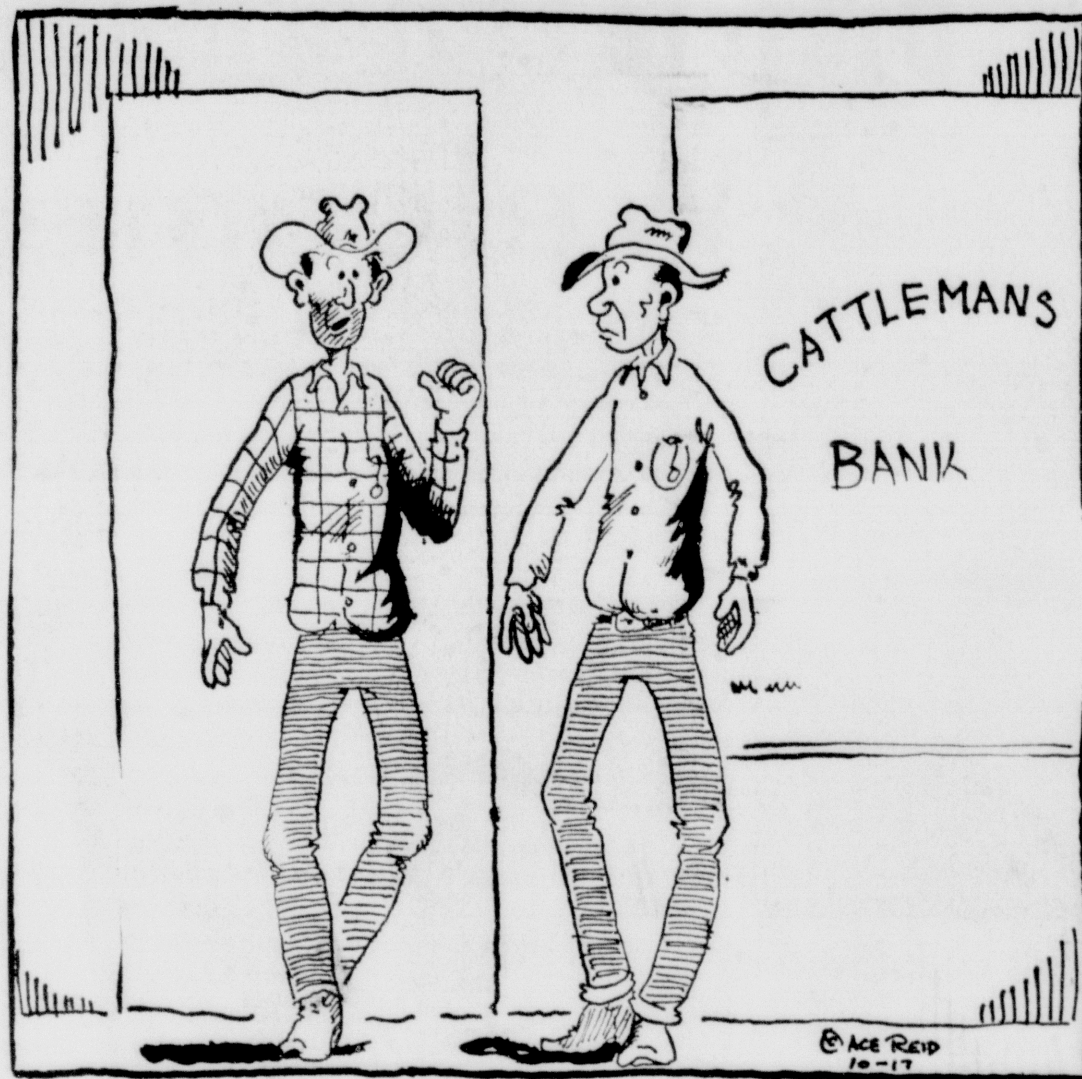

. . . called and wondered if I would give a "thank you" plug to the Hondo Lions Club. Recently the Lions voted to pay for the painting of the Hondo Garden Club Thrift Shop building. And the results presented a pretty picture to the some 200 Garden Club delegates who visited our City Nov. 2-3 for the district convention.

I understand the delegates voiced their pleasure with Hondo and some said they would be back for a visit without a convention.

So, I feel sure that all members of the Lions Club appreciate the "thanks" from Mrs. Watson on behalf of the Garden Club and also are happy that their efforts made the City look just a little brighter to our visitors.

SCS says: time right for practices

As we enter the cool season in the Medina Valley Soil and Water Conservation District, the time is right for mechanical practices on both cropland and rangeland.

Cropland can be terraced and be in good condition for spring plantings. Parallel terraces are highly recommended for this district due to the limited amount of point rows. Regular terraces also are very beneficial for construction on all cropland. Terraces combined with contour farming allow each row to take care of extra water and allow better penetration into the top soil and storage of extra amounts into the subsoil. In extra heavy rainfall, runoff water is carried down the terraces to grass waterways. The system works in beautiful fashion when properly designed, properly constructed and farmed correctly.

Critical area shaping is another mechanical practice that has proven beneficial. This consists of shaping old creeks or water draws and planting them to a good perennial grass. When such eroded areas are shaped, the landowner can then cross the creeks with truck or farm tractor and properly manage the grass or control weeds. The shaping removes an "eye-sore" from the farm and leaves the land in condition to be profitable with additional grazing.

Wildlife is usually attracted to these areas when grassed over and this also proves beneficial.

For further information come by the local Soil Conservation Service office in Hondo and all possible assistance will be given.

Garden Club to meet Friday .

Rangerettes kick higher, says The Texas Star

The Kilgore Rangerettes kick higher than the Radio City Rockettes, a Waco truck driver uses horse sense instead of a rabbit's foot and a straying Texan finds a little bit of home in London. TEXAS STAR presents those and other features Sunday.

The Rangerettes story, as unfolded by Charles K. Devall, reveals how the perfectly disciplined girls remain as the finest drill team of their kind -- "a breath of trim but provocative loveliness . . ."

Shorty Smith is the truck driver; he has traveled the roads for 43 years without a scratch. Thomas Turner interviews Smith and gives his philosophy -- to drive safely you have to keep your mind on your business all the time.

Wendy Haskell Meyer went to London and found the Texas Legation -- also a lot of people who taught her some Texas history. Plus a tip on where to go for repairs on a pair of shoes you have worn for 30 years.

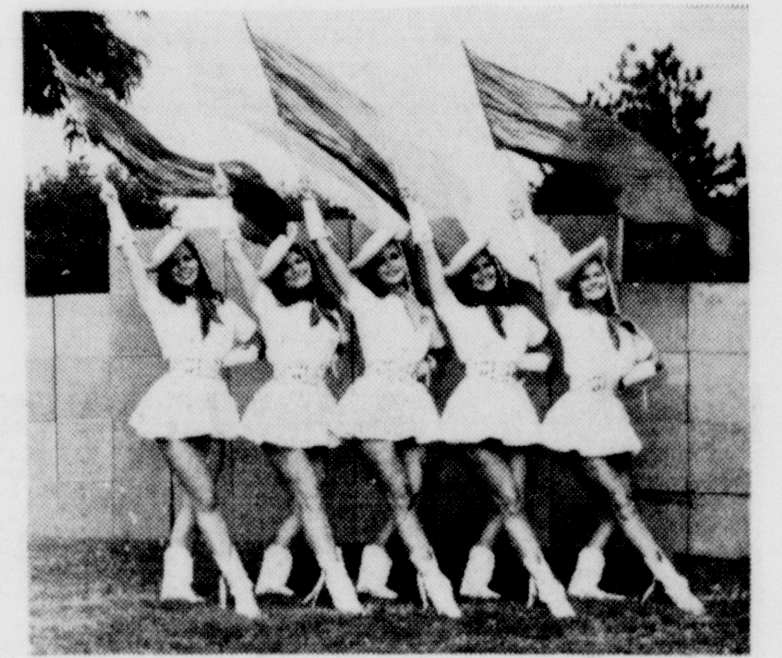

Ray Sasser tells about a young man who made his way to the top as a Future Farmer. All you have to do, says Barham Fulmer, is set your sights high and keep talking.

Star Comment explores the subject of prisons and suggests that, in seeking reform, a backward look might be productive.

Mary Faulk Kooch mixes singing and chowder, Wanda J. Campbell looks for a poem and Wick Fowler spends a few shopping days (that's all he spends) before Christmas.

A Kick Out of Life

Kilgore's famous high-kicking Rangerettes perform their polished precision drills before millions of fans coast-to-coast at half-times, conventions, and parades. Now in their 32nd year, these "Sweethearts of the Nation's Grid-irons" are directed by their proud originator, Gussie Nell Davis. The Rangerette corps, 65 of Kilgore College's lovely coeds, spends many hours perfecting their imaginative routines, earning accolades as the nation's No. One precision drill and dance team. Read about these talented Texas beauties Sunday, November 14, in the Texas Star . . . plus, "London's Texas History Mystery" and Waco's Shorty Smith, "King of the Road" . . . all this and much more in . . .

Senator Tower to speak at TSTA meeting

SAN ANTONIO--The senior United States senator from Texas, John G. Tower, will be the speaker at the general session of Alamo District XX, Texas State Teachers Association, Nov. 19, in San Antonio's Convention Center. Some 8,000 of the 12,000 classroom teachers and school administrators in the 18-county Alamo District, which includes Medina County, are expected at the convention, 37th in area history, said Kenneth D. Hanson, East Central schools, district president.

Young Homemakers to meet Tuesday

The Hondo Young Homemakers will meet for their regular monthly meeting on Nov. 16 at the High School Homemaking Department at 7:30 p.m.

The program will be given by women from the Lutheran Church demonstrating the christmases they have made and giving their religious significance. Visitors are welcome to attend.

EATING AT THE CARNIVAL
... Sydney and Allison Herrera, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Herrera, Jr., enjoy a little eating and drinking while taking it easy at the Halloween Carnival.

Bubble gum could have been lethal

Some person, or persons, maybe in Hondo, maybe not, might like to know they could have killed a local child on Halloween night.

That large dose of amphetamine someone put in a piece of bubble gum could have been lethal.

But the seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Long did not chew it. Instead he and his parents discovered it had been tampered with and turned it over to Chief of Police Jerry Williamson for tests.

"The piece of gum contained, according to our testing kits, at least a double dose of amphetamine," Williamson told the City Council Tuesday night. "And if a boy that size had chewed it, we think there was a high possibility that it could have been fatal."

Williamson said Long went with the boy on his trick-or-treat rounds and they do not believe anyone on those rounds deliberately gave the gum.

"We do not know how it was included in the gifts," the chief said. "But we know it was there and we are happy no one chewed the gum."

Also beginning Saturday is Quail season. Timmerman said it will run from Nov. 13 through Feb. 15. "This year the limit is 12 per day or 36 in possession. We have a fair late crop of quail so hunting will not be so bad."

As good this year either. But Timmerman says, "We have a fair carryover of turkeys from last year; therefore, even though we did not raise any this year, the hunting will still be fair."

O. B. "Doc" Taylor, who took the two pictures used on the front page this week, says his deer and turkeys are in good shape, although they are not as plentiful. "And they have been flocking to the oats I feed them," he said.

Turkey hunting will not either when he fined each of them the maximum of $100 and costs.

They also have been fined for trespassing.

Contract let on classrooms

Construction began this week on the new 8-classroom wing addition to Hondo High School with W. R. Griggs Co. of Castroville doing the work on a low bid of $111,699.

Hondo trustees opened bids on Nov. 4 and Griggs was the lowest of six bids. Other bidders and their figures were Prassell Construction Co., $132,622; R. L. Scott Co., $138,990; Scott and Jennison, $138,999; Joeris & Claus, $119,500; and C. Koltermann, $123,483.

Work is to be completed in 100 working days with credit for bad weather days. "That means we should have the building complete by July, 1972," Supr. Kenneth Flory said.

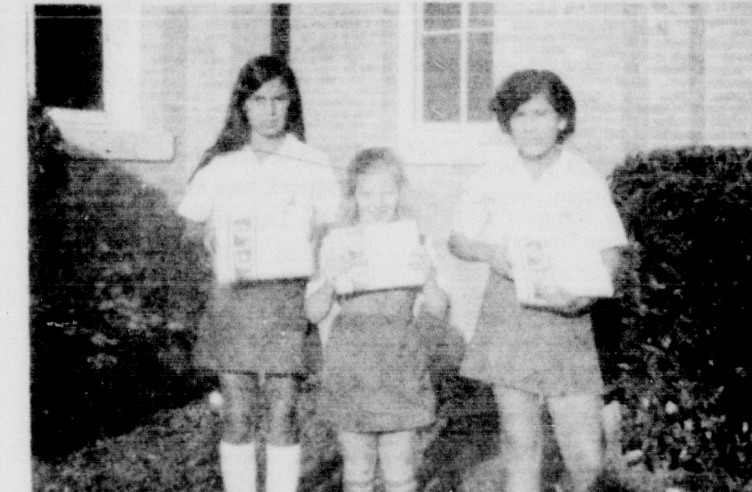

Money for the new wing comes from the approximately $140,000 left over from the bond to build McDowell School, the field house, the FFA addition and the FFA addition.

"With the low bid being at $111,699 we will have enough money to furnish and equip the new classrooms, including 36 typewriters for our Typing I class," Flory said.

The new air conditioned structure will include eight classrooms, seven of approximately 700 square feet and one about one-fifth larger to accommodate a typing room. It also will contain two restrooms.

It will join the high school on the north side of the gymnasium and extend north to the edge of the baseball field and east parallel to the gymnasium.

Parents Stamp Out Drug Abuse With Facts

By Jerry Williamson
Chief Of Police
City of Hondo

Today's Subject: More Dangerous Drugs and Their Effects

Last week we covered an outline of dangerous drugs and their effects. This week we will finish this listing covering the most widely used in today's drug explosion.

DRUG PRIMARY EFFECTS

Sedatives — Known as barbiturates, these are prescribed to induce sleep or provide a calming effect. Small amounts make the user sociable and relaxed. Heavy doses cause great sluggishness and effects like alcoholic drunkenness.

COCAINE — Derived from the leaves of the coca bush. Used as an anesthetic, legitimately. Legally, but not chemically classified as a narcotic. Produces feeling of exhilaration and is said to relieve hunger and fatigue.

CODEINE — Opium derivative, used in cough medicines, minor pain killer. Produces a slight feeling of euphoria.

METHAMPHETAMINE — It is closely related to amphetamines (see "Stimulants" last week's column), but more potent effects.

MORPHINE — Opium derivative used as a sedative and pain killer. Produces a feeling of calmness in user.

This will complete our "quick referral chart" on drugs of abuse. While there are others, those mentioned are the drugs you will want to become very familiar with for future reference. Be with us next week for more FACTS on the national drug abuse problem.

White roses made up her bouquet.

That's all she wrote

Nov. 4 -- Leaves are really going into their strip-tease act in Youngstown today. By morning the trees' bare limbs will be shivering in the first "cold spell" since I arrived on Oct. 6th. Gone will be the gay-colored trimmings and I shall miss them but the show has been one to remember when I return to the land of pecan leaves and mesquite beans which merit special ratings of their own.

Election day is now history. For the past ten days, all the area newspapers were filled with promises and pledges. One candidate whose name was Mudd missed out so—the name is still unchanged.

Reviewing some of the campaign oratory, one columnist quoted Peter Finley Dunne, the Chicago satirist of the early 1900s: "A man who would expect to train lobsters to fly in a year is called a lunatic; but a man who thinks men can be turned into angels by an election is called a reformer and still remains at large". Now and then he might be found down our way!

On this Thursday (Nov. 11) exactly 53 years ago, we celebrated a grand and glorious Armistice Day, before the WWI boys came marching home from the "war to end all wars". Since then, we've changed the name of the historic day to Veteran's Day and, this year, the date became Oct. 25.

Each Nov. 11, I remember the young men (my brother Sgt. John A. Gray, 141st Texas Inf., included) who were still far from home in 1918. In our own community we have Medina Countians who were "Over There, Over There" at the time. Most of them are still trying, best can, to help "Make the World safe for Democracy". Sort of an uphill job, too, seems like.

With the approach of the hunting season, emphasis is placed on the pros and cons of the game laws, the controversial opinions re the destruction of predatory animals etc., etc. In the early 1700's, an Englishwoman visiting in this state wrote this which points up a thought: "A fox is killed by 20 men. That fox perhaps had killed a hen. A gallant art no doubt is here. All wicked foxes ought to fear, when it takes 20 dogs & 20 men, to kill a fox that killed a hen".

A bit of terse verse from long ago.

This area's "Welcome Wagon" called on us this week and I played the part of an appreciative hostess. (Who remembers -- not too many years ago -- when our Hondo Chamber of Commerce operated a similar courtesy service? LENI JOHNSON, MILLIE FLY and I were among the Welcomers for a while.)

The coffee table was piled high with all the goodies. Best of all was the generous assortment of pamphlets, maps, samples, courtesy tickets etc. which will help me get better acquainted with this very hospitable community.

Of special interest was literature on the Cooperative Extension's 4-H Division in the New England states and others in the northeastern section, including New York. Since it is all in cooperation with the USDA, maybe Texas has the same program although I had not seen the attractive booklet filled with colorfully illustrated (GOOD) 4-letter words. I am mailing one to BARBARA FOWLER, just in case it is something new. I think our Medina County 4-Hers would love it.

My thoughtful and generous young friend JIM MENKE sent me a copy of his latest addition to his Medina County Scrapbook. It is a story of the Settlement on the Quihi, dated March 2, 1846, in the days of Comanche Indian raids.

Also, according to the story, the days when "There was no brush, only scattered liveoak and mesquite trees and lovely valleys. Game and wild honey were abundant and the wild mustang roamed free".

And ecology, as we know it now, posed no problems.

BKL's fine picture of the overflow at the Medina Diversion Day took me way, way back in memory. In the "days when", my trusty little old bamboo flyrod helped me snag many a pretty perch and bass right along about there somewhere.

Report shows 91% read newspapers

Social scientists, universities, and foundations, with no special connections with any advertising medium, are constantly making studies on the effectiveness of communications media.

One such study was made by New York University and the National Association of Science Writers. The study was financed by the Rockefeller Foundation. None of these institutions could be accused of having a special stake in newspapers. They were simply interested in learning which medium could convey information most effectively.

The study showed that 91 per cent of the public reads a newspaper. It showed that 57 per cent of the public gets more of its news from newspapers—compared to 22 per cent for television and 16 per cent for radio. Another 26 per cent listed newspapers as the main secondary source for news, which made a total of 83 per cent who gave newspapers first or second place as a news source.

Although the organizations studying under the Rockefeller grant did not report specifically on advertising, it could be safely assumed that the newspaper would rank similarly as a medium for advertising.

For advertising is news. And retail advertising is news which must be recalled in detail to be effective. Although the newspaper may not improve the memory of the reader, it provides a ready reference which serves as a substitute for memory.

For further information, see your social security representative when he is in your area. Your representative will be at Hondo at the City Hall at 8:45 a. m. on Monday.

QUESTION: My daughter is 19 and I get a check for her because she is attending school on a full-time basis. She recently married, but she will still be going to school. Do I have to make a report?

ANSWER: Yes, you should telephone your local office as soon as possible. Tell them you wish to report your daughter's marriage, and be prepared to give them the claim number, and the date and place of her marriage. Your daughter is no longer eligible for benefits beginning with the month of her marriage, so her checks will be stopped.

QUESTION: I received social security checks until I became 18. If I return to school in September, can I receive benefits again on the record of my deceased father?

ANSWER: If you are under age 22, unmarried and a full-time student in an approved school, you would again be eligible to receive student benefits. You will need to file a new application.

QUESTION: I want to stop my social security checks because I am going back to work. How do I go about it?

ANSWER: Just telephone your social security office. All this information can be taken by phone and you probably will not have to visit the office personally.

QUESTION: I was employed part-time as a service station attendant last year. Shouldn't my earnings have been reported to social security?

ANSWER: Yes. Your work was covered employment and should have been reported regardless of the amount of earned income or the fact that you were on a part-time status. If you believe these earnings were not reported, get in touch with the social security representative so that the matter may be investigated.

QUESTION: My aunt is currently drawing a widow's benefit from social security. She has indicated to me that if she should remarry, her widow's benefit will stop. Is this true?

ANSWER: Not necessarily. You did not indicate your aunt's age; however, if she remarries after age 60, her benefit will be reduced slightly. If she remarries before age 60, her benefits will be terminated.

Harmon says Texas will win Southwest Conference again

There's just no doubt about it. The twin Titans of the Big Eight Conference, top-ranked Nebraska and 2nd-ranked Oklahoma will be undefeated for their Thanksgiving Day clash. And this could be one of the great college games of all time. Doing a little early crystal-gazing, Nebraska would be a five-point favorite today. But that can change. This Saturday is final warm-up day for both teams. The Cornhuskers will cut the tails and whiskers from the Wildcats of Kansas State, winning by 38 points. The Sooners will chew up the Jayhawks of Kansas by 35. Looking at the unscrambling being done in the Southwest Conference, ninth-ranked Texas is now the odds-on favorite to win the championship and host the Cotton Bowl. Tied with T.C.U. for the league lead, the Longhorns will be able to reduce the number of leaders to just one. The Horned Frogs are 19-point underdogs. On the West Coast, 11th-ranked Southern Cal meets Washington, #12. The Trojans started a new season three weeks ago with their big win over Notre Dame, and they just might continue season #2 with a big victory over the Huskies. Southern Cal is favored by a single point.

Undefeated Number Six meets undefeated Number Seven in football's center ring! Interpretation: Georgia hosts Auburn in Athens. The Southeast Conference championship could well be decided by the outcome of this game depending on a few "ifs". If Georgia wins and Auburn beats Alabama on November 27th, the Bulldogs would win the title. If Auburn wins and also beats the Tide, the Tigers would win the conference crown. If Auburn wins and then loses to Alabama, Alabama will be the champion. Georgia's most impressive wins have been over Mississippi and South Carolina while Auburn clobbered Georgia Tech and beat Tennessee. So - with tongue in cheek - Georgia will nip Auburn by seven points.

In a final tune-up before meeting Auburn two weeks from Saturday, potent Alabama, #4 this week, entertains the Miami Hurricanes. The Crimson Tide will rack up win #10, missing up Miami by 31 points.

In a few other one-sided contests, third-rated Michigan will beat Purdue by 30 points. Penn State, #5, will slip North Carolina State by 44. Notre Dame, #6, will clip Tulane by 24, and Stanford, rated 10th, will by-pass San Jose State by 21 points.

Drama fills air over Hondo Sat.

Tense, pathos-filled drama played out its course in the air and on the ground at Hondo Saturday afternoon before coming to a satisfying conclusion.

A MAST rescue helicopter was flying a newborn child from Crystal City to San Antonio when it developed engine trouble and had to land at Hondo.

Another helicopter was dispatched to the area and flew the tiny heart victim and her nurse on to San Antonio.

The ground craft remained in Hondo until it could be repaired and flown out.

Parkers Creek dam receives green light

Future destruction brought about by flooding on Parkers Creek should be eliminated or curtailed greatly by action taken in Commissioners Court meeting Monday.

Court voted unanimously that:

"Medina County accept responsibility to secure all necessary easements and rights of ways required for construction of site eleven (11) on Parkers Creek. It will be the Medina County Commissioners Court's responsibility to maintain said structures. The Medina County Commissioners Court is to be reimbursed by the Edwards Underground Water District for any reasonable costs to Medina County for obtaining such easements."

Site eleven, part of the overall Seco Watershed project, is located on the Odie Gilliam place some eight miles slightly northeast of D'Handis.

The proposed dam, built of earth and rock, will be 2900 feet long and will cost approximately $150,000 depending on bids. If the water ever reached the top of the emergency spillway the lake would cover 341 acres. Normal coverage, if the land should hold water would be only 21 acres; and it would draw down in 6-1/2 days from a completely filled stage.

"This area is a fine one for re-charging the Edwards Underground Reservoir," E. L. Abbott of the Soil Conservation District said.

Abbott also said that easements must be obtained and this should be completed in a couple of weeks. "From that time it will be approximately six to eight months before construction can begin on the dam."

Another value in the dam concerns flooding. "Had this dam been in existence when the heavy rains hit in August," Abbott said, "the flooding in D'Handis would have been almost non-existent."

Council told electric rate is in line

City Council had good, or bad news, depending on who's looking at it, for Hondo electrical consumers Tuesday night.

Since a rate adjustment was made earlier this year, there have been numerous complaints into consideration. Mayor George Brucks said Tuesday night, "and had our engineering firm Lodal and Bain make a survey of our rates. They reported back that Hondo electrical rates are in no way out of line with other communities our size. In fact, they are still lower than many."

The possibility of utilizing portions of the Airbase runways for G-Cart races three times annually was discussed by Ken Foster, president of the San Antonio Go Cart Club.

Foster said his club, in conjunction with other clubs over the greater southwest, would like to use the base in May, August and October. The possibility has been discussed with Randolph AFB officials and will be discussed with officials of the 433rd Tactical Airlift Wing (Reserves).

Council instructed City Manager Fritz Leinweber to get with Foster to work out further details to be presented to the City Council.

Following a discussion of persons who owe the city money on curbing, electri-

B-team Freshmen end year

Hondo football teams split in games played at Southwest last week with the B-Team taking a 12-6 loss while the Freshmen posted a 30-6 win over the Dragon Freshmen.

The B-Team loss left the junior Owls with a final mark of 5-3-1 and a total of 150 points and 58 points scored against them. Their five wins included three shutouts.

In the Southwest game, the Owls fumbled several changes away and their only score came on a 60-yard run-pass play from Brian Finger to Douglas Helvey.

The Freshmen ended their season with a mark of 7-1-1 after rolling to their second win of the season over the Dragon Freshmen. Lonnie Rodriguez and Robert Rodriguez both ran for scores and Donnie Weynand scored twice, once on a run and once on a pass from Mike Groff.

The Freshmen ended their season by scoring a total of 176 points while allowing only 26 points to be scored against them, including five shutouts.

city, leases, buildings and other matters. It was voted by the Council to push for collection of these debts at the earliest possible time.

Bids were opened on a truck for a new dump truck and Jake Schuehle Ford submitted the low bid of $5192. Other bids were Economy Motors on a GMC $5250 and Mumme's on an International $5240. Council bought the Ford.

Bids also were opened on a bed for the truck but letting of the contract was held up so that Council might compare the advantages or disadvantages of front-end and rear-end loader type beds.

Winning for FFA

These three FFA members won ribbons at the South Texas Vegetable Day show in San Antonio Saturday. They show off their entries with their FFA advisor J. D. Schmidt.

CONSUMER EXPECTS BETTER PRICES AT ADVERTISING STORES

Retail advertising carries benefits which may be just as important to some merchants as increased sales volume. One valuable effect of good advertising is the increase in efficiency of a retail operation.

The manager of a booming chain of supermarkets says that he would have to more than double his employment costs if newspaper advertising were not available.

"The supermarket would not be an efficient method of retailing if advertising did not carry a big part of the sales burden. The housewife is able to buy with little assistance because she is acquainted with our products and prices when she arrives," the grocery executive said.

"When we evaluate our advertising we always consider the fact that it would take an army of salesmen to handle the questions which can be answered in one newspaper advertisement. . . ."

These comments do not apply to supermarkets alone. Advertising reduces selling time in any type of store. The potential buyer of an advertised product is always sold when he enters a store; he knows what he wants and where he can get it.

In fact, when man-hours saved are converted to dollars, newspaper advertising is practically free as compared to the cost of personal selling.

No wonder the consumer expects to find the best prices in stores that advertise. The stores which cut costs through advertising are able to pass the savings from modern selling methods on to their customers.

Please patronize our advertisers. They make it possible for us to publish news.

Cowboys romp past Rock Springs 21-14

A district title is within reach for the D'Hanis Cowboys after their pounding of the Rocksprings Angoras, 21-14 Friday night.

Following a scoreless first quarter, D'Hanis exploded for 21 points in the second period, proving that they are strong contenders, even if on unfamiliar ground.

Cowboy Quarterback Bobby Joe Rothe lit the scoreboard with a six-yard scamper. David Santos booted the extra point. Rothe also figured in the next D'Hanis score as he completed a 35-yard pass to Steve Jasso. Santos again kicked the extra point.

Later in the second quarter, Linebacker Spencer Burrell set up the third and final D'Hanis TD with his interception of an Angora aerial.

Shortly, Rothe got his second score of the evening with a one-yard sneak. Santos made it 3 out of 3 as he converted for the extra point.

Just before the half, Rocksprings came to life as QB Rene Ramirez passed six yards to Cody Dutton for six points. Raul Pena added the extra point.

The third quarter was uneventful as neither team could sustain a drive. At one time, Rocksprings drove deep into enemy territory, but the D'Hanis defense rose to the occasion and held.

The fourth quarter found Ramirez passing to Dutton, for a 60-yard TD pass-play and a score. Pena's boot finalized the score at 21-14.

With little time remaining, D'Hanis gained possession of the ball. By a series of short dives, the Cowboys managed to run out the clock as the D'Hanis fans went wild.

Statistics were (D'Hanis first): first downs--15, 15; yards rushing--234, 147; yards passing--35, 123; passes--14-0, 7-19-1; punts--5-28, 3-48; fumbles lost--0, 0; yards penalized, 13, 10. BRACKETT NEXT

The Cowboys have an off week while preparing for their final district encounter with Brackettville. The winner of this game will represent District 27-B in the state playoffs as Rocksprings and Brackettville meet this week. The D'Hanis-Brackett game will be played in D'Hanis November 20 at 8 p. m.

BRACKETTVILLE STOPPED . . . Cowboys doing the stopping include Joe Gonzales (40), Danny Pargas (42), Steve DeLeon (38) and Tony Zinsmeyer (36).

Owls win district title on tie game

Darrell Royal of Texas has always maintained that a tie football game is "just like kissing your sister," but Hondo Owl fans didn't mind the kiss Friday night as their team tied Southwest 0-0 and won the District 28-AA title.

The battle, touted to be a tough one, lived up to predictions and became a defensive clash that saw both teams throw up goal line walls that prevented touchdowns.

Hondo staged its best drive of the night late in the second quarter and with only a minute to play they sent Keith Ligon crashing into the line from the one to fourth down. But the Dragons would have none of it and took possession without the Owls changing the big goose egg on the scoreboard.

The Owls frittered away another scoring opportunity when a Tom Hill lateral went astray and Southwest pounced on the ball at about the 11-yard line.

Hondo's moments of glory came in the final quarter when it looked like the Dragons would blast them out of the park. Early in that frame Southwest drove to the five where they had scoring on their mind. Four plays later they had reached the one-yard line without making a change in scoreboard lights. Hondo had held them on the one-yard line and took possession there.

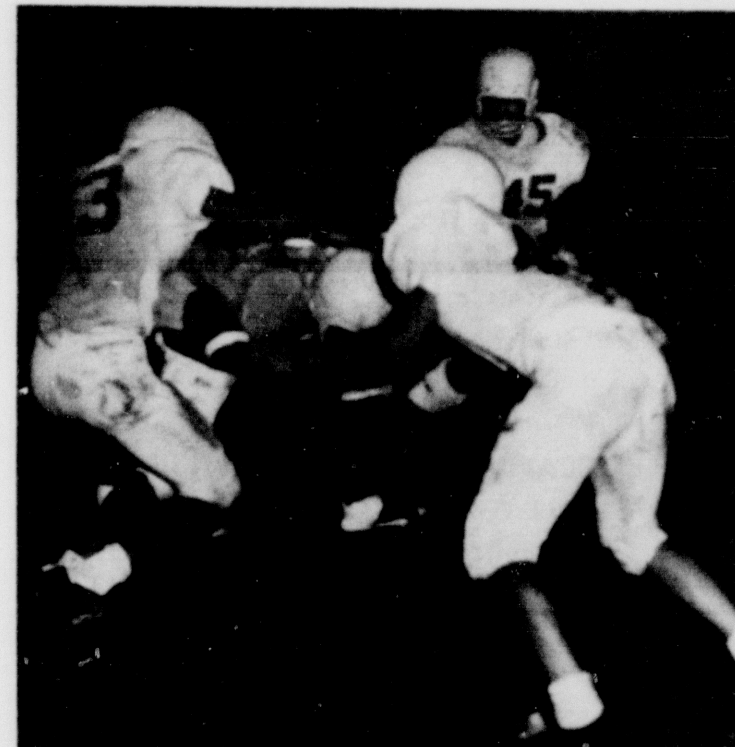

Somehow, Southwest didn't believe the Owls could do a thing like that and so late, late in the quarter they ran a re-peat.

This time the Owls took over on downs after stopping the Dragons on four downs inside the 5. And the clock read only 55 seconds.

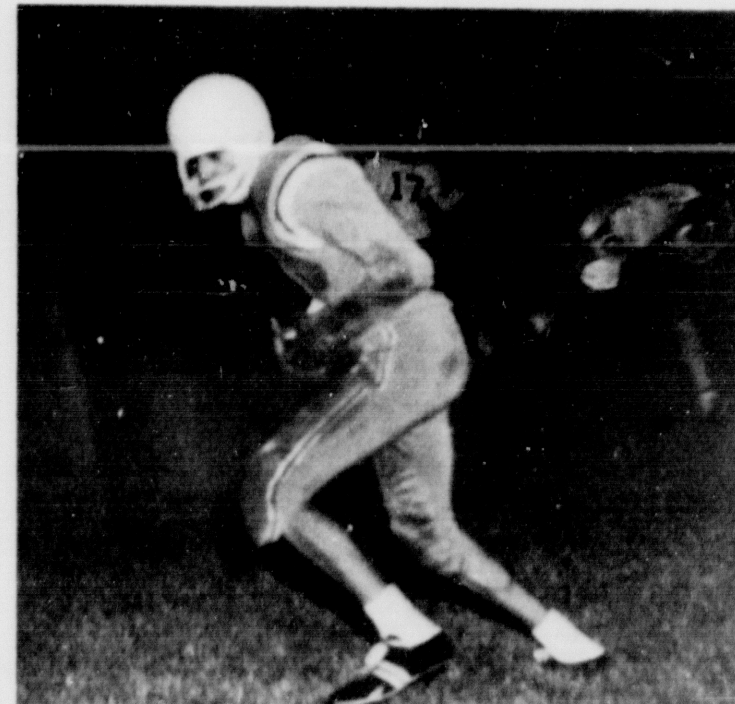

To select any outstanding player might prove to be a difficult task, since all eleven had to be in there in the defensive stands. However, Mark Biescher turned in a whale of a game at both offense and defense.

The tie gave Hondo a 7-1-1 season mark and a 6-0-1 district record and clinched the conference crown for the Owls. Southwest stands at 5-3-1 over the year and 3-2-1 for the season.

Hondo has one more game, this one Friday night with the Poteet Aggies on Barry Field. The game will see the crowning of the Football Queen and Owl Band members are selling mums for the event.

STOPPING BRACKETTVILLE JR. HI . . . Cowboys Daniel Rodriguez (43), Louis San-doval (44) and Freddie Muniz (45) stop a Brackettville halfback for no gain in a game won by D'Hanis 8-6.

ON FINAL SCORING JAUNT . . . Alberto Rodriguez (80) catches a pass against St. Gerard B-Team and heads out for final score in 48-8 tilt.

Former Owls walking high up in lola

Up in lola (Texas, that is) two former Hondo men are walking on cloud-what-ever-it-is close to football heaven.

John J. Britsch serves as head coach of the lola Bulldogs and his assistant is Al Rath, Jr.

The Bulldogs is not only undefeated in district play, but no team has scored on the 'Dogs so far.

And they must be pretty potent, too, for last week they swept by Normangee 46-0.
